

The Seven Symphonies Mini-Dictionary : Updated 04.02.05 covering all text except optional sections of the lectures

[Many thanks to Jyrki Stor-Pellinen for suggesting an additional 250 words]

Br = British; Am = American; eg = for example abduct = carry (a person) away by force aberrant = abnormal, deviant also >> aberration = deviation from what is normal or expected abomination = person, thing or idea that causes feelings of hatred and disgust abrasions = scratches, breaking of the skin abrasive = rough surfaced, likely to cause irritation or anger abrupt = sudden, unexpected also brusque [see below] absolve = excuse, pardon abstain from = avoid, give up (especially something pleasurable) abusive = intended or intending to hurt or insult abyss = deep (perhaps bottomless) pit or hole accommodate somebody = help somebody, respond favourably to somebody's request accomplice = person who helps in committing a crime accost = approach, stop and speak to somebody who would probably prefer to be left alone accountability = being held responsible (to the rest of society) for one's actions acquiescent = agreeing without protest acrimony = bitterness, resentment across-the-board = in every case acute = extreme adamant = unshakeable, unchangeable in opinion or purpose à deux = (French) two persons together adorn = decorate also adornment = decoration adulation = very great praise and/or respect affront = insult, personal attack aftermath = period of time after a major event (especially a disastrous event) agenda >> follow a different agenda = have one's own special (unspoken) reasons for doing something aggravate = irritate or anger aggregate = collection of many separate items, composite agony = extreme pain agrarian = (adjective) in connection with farms and farming airing >> get an airing = be shown in public also >> "airin' 'iz G-string" = displaying his G-string (thong pants) in public: Phillip's play on words of Bach's "Air on a G-string" aisle = pathway between seating areas in a church, theatre, bus, etc.

akin to = resembling allege = claim alleviate = lighten the mood or reduce difficulties allotment = small plot of land (often rented) used for growing vegetables and flowers allotted = specified, correct (place) allowances >> make allowances for = tolerate, show understanding about alluring = temptingly attractive allusion = reference or comparison (to something) ambience = atmosphere of a place ambiguous = unclear, can be understood in more than one way amble = walk slowly (in a relaxed manner) amnesia = loss of memory ampoule = small glass container for liquid medication (especially for injections) amputate = surgically remove the whole or part of an arm or leg anally retentive: Freudian terminology referring to an adult who has failed to grow out of the second (anal) psychosexual stage of childhood and shows characteristics of excessive tidiness, meanness & stubbornness anecdote = amusing story (from real life) aneurysm = leaking of blood into the brain, a stroke angle for = fish for, try to obtain (something) by indirectly talking about it animated = lively also animation = liveliness animosity = feelings of anger or hostility anomalous = irregular, abnormal apoplectic = showing symptoms of an aneurysm (see above) appalling = shocking, horrifying appease = reassure, submit to somebody's demands appellation = unusual synonym for "name" apportion = distribute, share out appraise = assess, evaluate >> appraisal = assessment, evaluation apprehensive = nervous, worried >> apprehension = fear, worry apprise = inform, make aware aptitude = ability arable = (adjective) relating to farmland and cultivated fields arc = curve archly = with affected secrecy, suggestively ardour = passion, intense enthusiasm arduous = demanding hard work arm >> it cost an arm and a leg = (slang expression) it was extremely expensive arousal = sexual excitement array = an ordered collection articulated lorry = (Br) lorry or truck consisting of two connected sections a.s.a.p. = "as soon as possible" askew = not in a straight position, twisted aspiring = hopeful, ambitious assailant = attacker assertion = claim, statement assignation = meeting (especially a secret one between lovers) assimilate = take in and understand, absorb assuage = relieve, calm down, pacify astound = amaze, astonish atone for = accept punishment for atrocious = disgusting act of violence and brutality audible = can be heard audition = practical test of one's performing skills (in music or theatre) Aussie = (slang) Australian person austere = stern, severe, soberly serious, without lightness or humour authenticate = show the validity or genuineness of something autonomy = the ability to make one's own decisions avail >> to no avail = with no success or positive result aversion to = intense dislike for avert one's eyes = look away avuncular = like an uncle, friendly, helpful awesome = powerfully impressive (even frightening) AWOL = (military term) Absent Without Leave = absent without official permission axiom = principle back >> "keep him off my back" = "stop him bothering me" backchat = light-hearted (i.e. not serious) exchange of small insults and jokes backdrop = background backhander = bribe backlash = a sudden negative feeling or reaction after an event back up = support bad-mouth = criticize somebody especially when that person is not present baffled = confused, not understanding ball >> play ball = cooperate ballistic >> go ballistic = (slang) lose one's temper completely banged up = (Br slang) put in prison (NB: in Am banged up = injured) banish = send away especially from the home country (as official punishment) banister = safety rail running beside stairs or on landings (floors) between staircases bantering = arguing in a playful manner Bard >> the Bard = nickname for William Shakespeare bardic = (adjective) relating to ancient Celtic poetry or story-telling barge in = enter or arrive uninvited and unwelcome barrage = unbroken attack (especially from a line of heavy guns) barrelled = rounded in the shape of a beer or wine barrel barren = empty and lifeless bashful = shy, modest bash out = perform enthusiastically but not very precisely bask (in) = enjoy feelings of warmth or pleasure (in) battered = damaged, dented battering ram = metal or wooden post used to break down a door or wall beam = smile broadly bearing = way of holding one's body or behaving (socially) bearings >> get one's bearings = orient oneself geographically beckon = ask somebody to come closer by a gesture of the hand bedlam = state of (noisy) confusion, madness bedsit >> short for bed-sitting room = one room apartment beggar belief = go beyond the limits of believability begrudging = reluctant, agreeing against one's own wishes beguile = fascinate, charm, entertain belated = (unnecessarily or too) late belittle = make something appear to have less than its true value or importance belligerent = aggressive, looking for a fight bellow = shout belly = stomach bemoan = complain about, express grief or disappointment about something bemused = lost in thought, slightly confused or surprised benevolent = well-wishing bereft = deprived, suffering a loss beside oneself = in an extremely worried state, in a panic bestiality = brutish and depraved (sexual) behaviour bestow = give, make a gift of (something) beverage = hot drink bewildered = confused, puzzled, indecisive Bible-bashing = (slang) overenthusiastic proclaiming of the Bible scriptures bicker = argue about small, unimportant matters bid = command, order bidding = order(s), demand(s) biddy >> old biddy = old woman especially a gossipy, interfering one bide one's time = wait until a better moment (to do something) bier = platform upon which a dead body or coffin is placed bizarre = very weird, unusually strange blabbermouth = person who talks too much and tells secrets or private information bladder = bag filled with liquid, especially part of the body storing urine bland = without emphasis or obvious emotion blank out = refuse to think about (something), try to wipe (something) from one's memory bleak = desolate, uncheerful, without hope or excitement bleary-eyed = sleepy and unable to open one's eyes properly blight = spoil, destroy

Blighty = (originally World War I soldier's slang) England blind >> not take a blind bit of notice = completely ignore also >> a blind = something that hides the truth blinder = a 'blinding' (i.e. very painful) headache (Br slang) blink = fast (mainly) reflex closing and reopening of the eyes blissful = extremely pleasurable blitz = sudden and violent attack [from German word: Blitzkrieg] bloke = (Br slang) man, fellow, (male) guy blood-curdling = horrifying, terrifying blossom = flowers (especially on a tree or bush) blurt out = say something suddenly and uncontrollably blush = turn red in the face with embarrassment bob = bounce up and down (like an object floating on water) bogus = false, fake, untrue bolster = support, reinforce bolt = to run away (like a frightened animal) bondage = sexual practice where one partner is physically tied or bound bonds = ties, responsibilities bookish = spending much of one's time reading boulder = large rock bouncer = security guard or doorman at a bar or night-club bounteous = plentiful, given generously bowel = lower intestine >> bowel-loosening = very frightening bowled over = very impressed, amazed bow out = give up, leave the stage, admit defeat Brahms & Liszt = 'pissed', drunk (Cockney rhyming slang) brass monkeys: reference to an informal expression about the weather: "It's cold enough to freeze the balls (testicles) off a brass monkey!" brawl = (rough & confused) fighting; for example a pub or bar-room brawl brazen it out = pretend innocence in spite of obvious guilt breach = (verb) break, break through; (noun) failure to keep trust or comply with the law breakneck >> at breakneck speed = dangerously fast breeding >> lack of breeding = bad manners, impoliteness breezy = casual, care-free, cheerful bric-a-brac = (originally French) a varied collection of small objects bridle = show sudden irritation or anger brier = thorny bush brimstone = the chemical element sulphur (S) >> fire and brimstone = two traditional components in the sufferings of Hell brink = absolute edge briskly = quickly and energetically broach >> broach the subject = introduce an important subject in the middle of a conversation broadsheet = large-format newspaper (eg Daily Telegraph, Herald Tribune, Helsingin Sanomat) [compare "tabloid" below] brood = think long and hard on a serious or depressing subject bruise = hurt without breaking the skin, usually leaving a bluish mark brunt = main force or shock of a blow or attack brush with = short but potentially unpleasant or dangerous meeting with brusque = short & sharp, close to impolite (in behaviour or speech) buddy = (slang) friend buff-coloured = pale brown, fawn buffet = repeatedly knock or strike (like wind buffeting a boat) bug = (slang) bacteria, virus also fault or mistake in a computer programme also a small hidden microphone used for secret surveillance bugger off = (taboo swear words) go away, leave buggy = small, collapsible children's pram bulge = swell, stick out bulk = size bulldroppings >> Sirén's own version of "bullshit" = nonsense, spoken or written rubbish bully = hurt someone in one's power or weaker than oneself also a person who bullies others bunker = underground, reinforced concrete shelter during a time of war >> bunker down = install oneself in a safe place and be ready to resist attack buoyant = high spirited, in a cheerful mood burden = weight, heavy responsibility burgeoning = growing rapidly burly = heavily built and strong busybody = interfering person butter >> butter wouldn't melt in her mouth = expression describing a sweet & innocent-looking girl who may, in fact, be just the opposite buxom = (of women) plump and curvaceously attractive buzz = (slang) excitement, thrill cagey = secretive, holding back information cajole = coax [see below] camp = (slang adjective) exaggeratedly effeminate or gay in manner cantilevered = projecting (sticking out) and turning about one end capricious = unpredictable in thought and behaviour career = [verb] to move quickly in an uncontrolled manner carouse = (old-fashioned word) drink (alcohol) freely (and usually excessively) with a group of friends carrion bird = bird that eats the rotting flesh of dead animals cartilage = tough material found mainly at the joints between bones carzey (Br slang) = toilet, WC, (Am equivalent = bathroom or john) case out = study (a place) from a distance intending to (break in and) steal from it cataclysmic = catastrophic, disastrous catch somebody out = (Br) notice somebody's attempt to hide mistakes or dishonesty catholic = wide ranging, all-inclusive caution >> throw caution to the wind = take a risk ceilidh = Irish or Scottish informal gathering with folk-music, dance & story-telling Celtophile = lover of the Celts and/or Celtic culture ensorious = strongly critical (of somebody's behaviour) cerebral palsy >> often referred to as CP chafed = sore from repeated rubbing chaperone = escort, accompany a young woman as 'moral watchdog' char = (Br slang) tea charade = absurdly false and pointless performance or situation charitable = generous charlatan = person who falsely claims to have knowledge or skills (especially medical) charred = burnt, blackened by burning chaste = pure, non-sexual, innocent chat up = start a conversation with a stranger hoping it will lead to a future sexual relationship (Am equivalent = "hit on") check >> in check = under control cheeky = (Br) disrespectful, shameless cherchez la femme: (French) literally "seek the woman"; meaning "there is a woman somewhere in the background of this situation or story". Phillip follows this up with: la femme cherchée= the woman who is sought cherish = hold dear, have tender feelings for cheroot = a cigar with both ends square-cut

Cheshire cat: cat from Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland famous for its very wide smile chest >> get something off one's chest = tell somebody one's personal worries or guilty feelings chest-cuirass = metal or leather armour protecting the chest chide = criticise somebody's behaviour in a gentle, parental way chink = small crack >> chink in one's armour = one's weak or vulnerable spot chitchat = unimportant (perhaps even time-wasting) conversation chore = boring everyday task chuck = (slang) throw chuckle = laugh softly chummy = friendly churlish = impolite, unfriendly churn = stir in a violent, agitated manner ciggy = cigarette (Br slang) circumspect = cautious and discreet [see 'discreet' below] circumscribe = draw around, move around circumstantial evidence = indirect evidence suggesting but not fully proving guilt cirrus (clouds) = high altitude delicately banded clouds citadel = central part of a town surrounded by defensive walls, fortified town clairvoyance = ability to see or understand without using the normal five senses clamber = climb awkwardly with both hands and feet clamour for = ask for or demand noisily clamped = strongly fixed or attached claustrophobia = fear of small enclosed spaces >> claustrophobic = causing feelings of claustrophobia clemency = mercy clenched = pressed tightly together clinging = overdependent, demanding attention also cling to = hold on to (desperately) cloak-and-dagger = secretive especially in connection with spying & espionage clobber >> get clobbered = (slang) be defeated, experience bad fortune clogs >> pop one's clogs = (lighthearted slang) die closet Christian >> Miranda's invention paralleling the idiom "closet gay" = someone who keeps their homosexuality a secret closure = reaching the end of an emotionally difficult process, acceptance of a painful loss clutch = grip or hold tightly cluttered = overfilled, crowded coax = manipulate somebody with gentle persuasion cobwebs = old dusty spiders' webs cock an eyebrow = raise an eyebrow cocky = irritatingly self-confident, arrogant coitus = sexual intercourse collar = (slang) arrest made by a police officer colonnade = row of evenly spaced columns colossal = enormous comatose = deeply unconscious comebacks = unpleasant consequences commendable = deserving praise commiserate = express sympathy commission = work of art ordered in advance common or garden = ordinary, normal, common commune with = share or exchange thoughts and/or feelings with compassion = sympathy for another's suffering compel = force compliant = ready to agree, not resisting complicit = actively involved composed = calm and relaxed compunction = feeling reluctance or guilt concede = admit validity or truth (of something) conciliatory = done to rebuild trust or goodwill concoct = invent, create (artificially) from many different ingredients concur = agree condescension = behaving towards someone as if they were less intelligent or important condom = rubber sleeve worn by a man during sexual intercourse confectionery = sweets, chocolate, etc confessional = small cubicle in a church for sitting and confessing one's sins to a priest confide in (or to) somebody = tell somebody (in trust) one's personal or private matters conflagration = large and destructive fire confluence point = place where things meet or flow together confrontation = face-to-face meeting especially of a difficult or argumentative type conjure up = create by magic consensus = widely held opinion or agreement consequence >> of consequence = of importance consolation = comfort consort with = (old-fashioned) keep company with, date, have dealings with conspicuous = very noticeable conspiratorial = as if sharing secret information or goals consuming passion = fully (or obsessively) occupying enthusiasm consummation = completion, fulfillment; legal confirmation of a marriage by the act of sexual intercourse contempt = feelings of extreme dislike and lack of respect for somebody >> contemptuous = showing contempt contender = competitor, suitable alternative contentious = argumentative, quarrelsome contrapuntal = adjective from 'counterpoint' [see below] contrite = extremely sorry, very apologetic, ashamed, filled with guilt converging = (of two objects) moving in two lines towards the same point convey = communicate, show, transport convoy = a group of vehicles travelling together coop = chicken house >> flown the coop = escaped cordon off = surround an area to prevent movement in or out of it Corgi and Bess >> Phillip's wordplay on the opera "Porgy & Bess": Bess is a nickname for Elizabeth, and Phillip refers to Elizabeth Windsor's (Queen Elizabeth II's) love of corgi dogs corroboration = supporting evidence corruption = dishonesty, vice, immorality, wickedness couched in = hidden in, expressed indirectly by counterpoint = (in music) the art of combining one or more melodies simultaneously covert = secret, hidden covetous = greedy and envious cower = move back and lower one's head defensively as a response to fear or attack coy = playfully modest or shy cracker = (Br slang) very attractive young woman cramped = tight, with little room to move crampons and ice picks = mountaineer's climbing equipment crane one's neck = twist one's head round and upward to look at something high and to the side crank = odd person especially one with unusual or strange opinions crave = greatly desire also cravings = strong desires crawl >> pub crawl = visiting a number of pubs in sequence in the same evening creaky = making harsh high-pitched sounds, old and stiff crease = line or wrinkle in the skin from age or when smiling or grimacing credence = belief, believability creepy = disturbing, frightening, ghostly cretin = person considered to be very stupid crime passionel = (French) crime of passion: motivated by strong emotions like jealousy or hate cringe = take up a defensive (and cowardly) body position when attacked also react inwardly to feelings of shame or embarrassment crippling = paralyzing, seriously weakening critical mass = minimum amount of enriched uranium needed to start a nuclear reaction critters = cowboy language for "creatures" croak = rough-edged voice or sound typically describing that of a crow or frog crony = longstanding friend or companion crook = bend, curve croon = sing in a soft, low voice crouch = squat down on one's feet with knees bent and body leaning forward crucial = of first importance, vital crumbling = falling into small pieces crumple = collapse, fold, bend or squeeze roughly crux = most important or vital point cryptic = not obvious in meaning, as if in secret code cuirass >> see chest-cuirass cul-de-sac = dead end culinary = (adjective) in connection with cooking culprit = guilty person cumulative = gradually building up, increasing in size or intensity by a steady series of steps cunning = cleverness at tricking or fooling others (like the fox in traditional stories) cups >> in one's cups = (old-fashioned, Shakespearean expression) drunk curdle >> blood-curdling = causing extreme fear curlew = large waterside bird with long legs and long curved bill: Numenius cursory = quick and with little interest or concentration curtail = cut short, bring to an end curtly = using very few words; rudely or abruptly custody >> in custody = held by the police cutie = a cute, attractive young woman cut >> can't cut it = can't manage, not strong enough also >> cut out to be = destined to be, capable of being dab = touch gently and repeatedly on the surface to apply or remove something dais = small stage upon which a speaker or lecturer might stand dally = act in an amorous or flirtatious way damsel in distress = young woman in danger especially in romantic fairy stories dandified = dressed with extreme (even exaggerated) concern for one's appearance dangle = hang loose, hang freely dark >> leave (somebody) in the dark = hold back information (from somebody) dash = rush >> dashing = stylish & impressive dastardly deed = [old-fashioned expression] dishonourable act daunting = discouraging debris = objects (of little value) remaining or no longer needed décolletage = very low cut (of a dress or blouse) deadpan = expressing little or nothing, poker-faced deal >> a big deal = (slang) very important matter deceptive = easy to misunderstand or mistake for something else deciduous tree = tree which drops its leaves in the autumn deem = judge, consider defame = damage a person's reputation or good name deference = respect for a superior >> deferential = showing respect for a superior defiant = boldly resistant (especially against authority) defile = make dirty or unholy deft = skilful especially with the fingers or hands defunct = no longer used or useful degenerate = immoral, corrupt dehydrated = dried out, lacking water content deity = god delegate = pass a task onto someone with a lower position (in a firm, organization, etc) delirium = state of mental excitement and confusion (as brought on, for example, by a high fever) demijohn = large bottle with short narrow neck and glass handles demise = death demure = modest, reserved, quiet den = small cozy room used (for example) for relaxing in private or pursuing a hobby dent = small area of a surface pushed in by force depravity = moral corruption deranged = mad, insane derisive = making fun of, showing no respect for de rigueur = (French) required by fashion desecrator = person who damages something sacred or beautiful deserts >> just deserts = appropriate punishment desolation = extreme unhappiness, despair or empty & inhospitable scenery, wilderness despicable = disgusting, contemptible despondent = sad and without hope desultory = restless, jumping from one thing to another, unmethodical, disconnected detachment = feeling of distance (from something; or even from reality) detain = delay somebody or keep somebody in custody (see above) détente = relaxing of tension typically between two (unfriendly) countries deter = discourage, persuade from doing something devastated = overcome by shock and/or grief devoid of = lacking devour = eat up hungrily dexterity = great skill especially with the fingers; derived from Latin word for "right hand" diatribe = bitter and/or violent criticism digital = relating to numerical calculation-based (i.e. computer-based) technology; derived from word "digit" meaning "finger", as in 'counting with one's fingers' dilapidated = in bad condition dilemma = difficult (almost impossible) situation dilettante = enthusiastic but non-practising follower of the arts (usually without professional training) dire = urgent, fearful, dangerous, potentially disastrous disarray = untidiness, confusion discernible = visible, recognizable disconcerting = disturbing, weakening one's confidence disconsolate = unhappy, miserable, very disappointed discreet = careful to keep a secret, avoiding unnecessary social embarrassment discrepancy = something which does not fit or match as expected discrete = separate, single and distinct disdain = feelings of superiority and dislike, contempt, scorn disenchanted = disillusioning, disappointing one's initial feelings of interest or enthusiasm disfigure = spoil or damage something's beauty disgruntled = irritated and complaining dishevelled = untidy dish out = serving, handing out >> dish it out = (slang) punish dishy = (Br) highly attractive, sexy disjointed >> [see 'nose' below] dismayed = unpleasantly surprised dismiss = not take seriously, reject disparaging = considering something to have little worth or value, scornful dispel = send or drive (something) away dispense with = leave out, not bother with disperse = scatter, leave in many directions, disappear gradually dispirited = discouraged, depressed dissuade = persuade someone not to do something distorted = twisted or bent out of shape distract = direct someone's attention elsewhere distracted >> drive somebody to distraction = make somebody desperate and/or frustrated distraught = extremely upset and worried distressing = extremely upsetting, emotionally painful divergence = difference from an earlier case or situation diversionary = intended to take attention away from something do = (Br) party, social gathering docile = quiet and lacking energy or initiative don = put on (clothes) dormant = sleeping, waiting to be reactivated dote upon = be excessively fond of double-bluff = attempt to trick somebody into believing something by indicating the opposite doubting Thomas = sceptic [referring to the apostle Thomas who demanded physical proof before believing in Christ's resurrection] drab = dull, lacking colour or excitement draught = preliminary written sketch or version; amount of liquid taken in one swallow; beer stored in in and served from a barrel drawl = speak slowly and lazily drawn (face) = tired and ill looking especially as a result of worry, grief or sickness draw out = extend, make longer >> drawn out = continuing longer than expected or originally planned dread = fear mixed with horror dregs = last remaining (especially unappetizing) drops of a drink drench = soak, make completely wet drift >> get my drift = understand what I'm implying or suggesting drool = salivate like a dog at the sight of food drown my [magic] book: Phillip is quoting from Prospero's epilogue in Shakespeare's The Tempest drudgery = boring, repetitive tasks druidic >> of the druidic persuasion: Phillip refers to the Celtic druid religion (i.e. 'persuasion') as a way of suggesting that Miranda & Nick are Welsh dub = give a name or nickname dubious = doubtful, unlikely duck out = avoid one's duties or responsibilities (when inconvenient) dumb = unable to speak dumbfounded = struck dumb, surprised and confused dumpy = short and rather fat duplicity = dishonesty, deception dusky = rather dark dwell on something = think (or worry) very much about something dwindle = gradually get less and less dysfunction = (medical) abnormal or faulty working of part of the body earnest = serious, intense earshot >> out of earshot = too far away to be heard >> in/within earshot = close enough to be heard ease = move carefully and deliberately also >> with ease = easily eaves = underside edges of a pointed roof ebb = flow away or out of, lessen in intensity eccentric = individual in an unusual or peculiar way ecological niche = stable status or position (in the natural world) occupied by a particular plant or animal species edge >> set one's teeth on edge = make one feel very uncomfortable or irritated edgy = restless, nervous eerie = disturbingly mysterious or ghostly effervescent = bubbling eke out = make a limited amount of something last as long as possible elements >> the elements = forces of the weather or climate elephant >> white elephant = something of little use or value to its owner elated = in a state of great happiness elevate = raise, lift elicit = draw out, bring to light eloquence = ability to speak expressively and persuasively elusive = difficult to find or catch emancipate = set free embark on = begin embellish = ornament, add decorative detail embody = show (an abstract idea) in physical form embossed = [here it means] with text moulded to rise in relief above the natural surface of the paper emerge = appear, come out enact = live out encamp = set up camp, establish a temporary home encroach = spread beyond the normal (or normally accepted) limits endearing = loveable endeavour = try, attempt endorsement = support, agreement with, statement (often by an expert or by somebody famous) praising something endow = provide (as a gift) engrossed in = totally focused on, absorbed in, or concentrating on (something) enhance = further improve, make (computer images) clearer enigmatic = mysterious, difficult to understand or explain enliven = make more lively or interesting en masse = in a large group enormity = act of great evil enraptured = delighted ensuing = following, succeeding entice = tempt, draw on by exciting hope or desire entwined = wound or wrapped tightly together envisage = imagine, create a mental picture of something epitaph = words remembering a dead person, for example on a tomb stone; final judgement on a person's life err = make a mistake, behave incorrectly >> errant = mistaken, behaving in an unacceptable way, taking a wrong path or direction; wandering in search of adventure and romance erstwhile = former, earlier but not any longer erudite = scholarly, carefully researched escalate = rapidly increase in seriousness escapade = adventure especially a light-hearted one espouse = support or promote euphoric = highly elated, in a joyful state of mind evade = avoid (capture) evasion = avoidance of telling the truth or of facing difficulties >> evasive is the adjective form evocative = stimulating the senses & the imagination, and recalling memories from the past exasperation = irritated frustration excessively = too much exhale = breathe out exhilarating = bringing pleasure, excitement and a sense of energy expansiveness = talking at length in a relaxed and friendly manner on a subject of general interest to everyone present expat >> short for expatriate = person living in a foreign country exploit = notable action or adventure exposure = having one's crimes or wrongdoings made public or more widely known; expound = talk at length extinguish = put out (a fire) extort = force money from somebody by means of threats >> extortionate price = excessively high price extremis >> in extremis = (Latin) at the point of death extricate = escape from, get out of (a difficult or awkward situation) exuberancy = happy high spirits and vitality exultant = extremely happy about one's success fable = (fairy) story with a hidden message (usually concerning morality) fabricate = construct (an explanation or story) especially one which is false or untrue facetious = ironically humorous especially in a stupid or inappropriate manner faeces = medical word for excrement (i.e. 'shit!' >> see "fan" below) fall guy = (slang) scapegoat, person who takes the blame for another's crime fallible = capable of making mistakes falter = hesitate in uncertainty, lose strength or vitality fan >> the faeces will hit the fan = Sirén's own version of the common expression: "the shit will hit the fan" = "there will be serious consequences" fantastical = Shakespearean-period word meaning "eccentric" far-fetched = unlikely, hard to believe far-flung = far away, remote fathom = understand also measurement of depth (most often in water) = 1.829 metres fatigue = great tiredness faux pas = (originally French) saying the wrong thing especially in social contexts fawn over somebody = seek attention from somebody especially by use of excessive flattery feasible = practicable, possible, believable feign = pretend, act out felon = criminal feral = like a wild animal, living by instinct (especially of domesticated animals that have escaped into the wild) ferment = state of stormy or frenzied excitement fester = suffer slow-acting but prolonged infection, suffer chronic bitterness or irritation fête = entertain (somebody) with much honour and respect fiddle = informal word for violin [often suggesting a less professional instrument] fiddle with = handle restlessly and with no obvious point fidgety = unable to keep still field = (verb) catch, pick up, receive, answer (a question or complaint), handle, deal with; (noun) area of farming land, area for sport or games, area of knowledge or expertise, range of possibilities figure = be or appear significant file out = leave in an orderly queue fin de siècle = (French) end of the (19th) century fine-tooth comb >> with a fine-tooth comb = intensively and with regard to the smallest details finger post = (Br) signpost indicating direction with a pointing finger or hand fitting = appropriate fix = routine dosage especially of injected heroin or similar drugs fixate on = become obsessed with, focus on (something) while forgetting everything else flagrant = openly and unashamedly shocking, outrageous flakiness = (slang) silliness, absurd eccentricity flair = talent flamboyant = showy, colourful, theatrical flaming = attractive patterns formed by the wood grain on the surface of a violin's (viola's, etc) body flammable = catching fire easily flank = border

flare up = become suddenly angry flash = (slang) expose one's sexual organs in public flatly = spoken with little expression or feeling flatter = praise somebody's beauty or talents (perhaps dishonestly to manipulate or gain an advantage) flaunt = display something (or oneself) with excessive pride flawed = containing serious faults or mistakes flawless = without faults or mistakes flecked = coloured or spotted here and there fleeting = brief, soon over flicker = quick movement backwards and forwards, short flash of light flinch = make an uncontrollable movement in response to pain, fear or shock flip = (slang) go mad, lose one's mental balance flippant = inappropriately lighthearted or humorous flirtatious = playfully suggesting sexual invitation flit >> do a flit = (Br slang) leave suddenly, escape floodgate = a gate or barrier used to control or stop the flow of water in a river or canal florid = ornamented or decorated to an extreme degree fluke = unlikely event happening by chance flustered = confused, slightly in a panic flutter = move quickly and lightly up and down fob off = (Br) discourage an approach by somebody (with excuses or lies) foetal position = in the position of a growing embryo with raised knees and bent arms foil = fool, trick, prevent an opponent from winning folly = foolishness, stupidity fondle = touch and caress especially in an erotic manner foppish = (of men) excessively concerned with one's own fashionable appearance forecourt = open area in front of a building eg in front of a service station foreordained = decided beforehand by 'fate' foreplay = sexual stimulation before full intercourse foreshadow = suggest or be similar to something (usually unwelcome) which will happen in the future forfeit = give up, lose forthright = direct and honest in manner foul-up = mess caused by bad handling of a situation frail = physically weak and delicate frayed = torn at the edges freckles = small brownish (melanin pigmented) spots on the skin free'n'easy wiv [London accent] >> free and easy with = generous with fretful = troubled frill = luxurious extra fringe = edge frisson = (originally French) shudder, shiver, thrill froth = foam, mass of tiny bubbles (in a liquid) frugal = very economical, un wasteful fruitcake = (Br slang) mad or eccentric person fruition = maturity, successful completion frumpish = lacking in fashionable taste or elegance fucksake >> for fucksake! = taboo swear word version of for heaven's sake! fugitive = person trying to avoid capture Full marks! = Congratulations (for being 100% correct)! full tilt = maximum speed fumble (with something) = handle (something) in a clumsy manner fuming = very angry furnace = very hot fire or oven (eg for smelting iron or firing ceramics) fuss = (noun) unnecessarily busy or excited activity >> fuss over = (verb) bother somebody with unwanted (though well-meaning) attention gaffer tape = heavy, silver-coloured adhesive tape gaga = crazy gagged = having one's mouth tightly covered or bound to prevent speaking or shouting gag for something = (Br) be desperate to get something especially sexual satisfaction game for = ready for gamut = range garbled = spoken quickly and unintelligibly garrotte = strangle (especially with a wire noose) gasp = breathe violently, struggle for breath or sudden intake of breath gauge = measure

gawk = stare in a stupid manner geezer = (Br? slang) slightly eccentric (usually old) man gen = gen(eral information) (Br) genial = cheerful, easy-going get away with (something) = escape detection or punishment (of/for something) get off (on something) = get high (on drugs), reach orgasm (by some means) ghoulish = fascinated by death and dead bodies gibber = make unintelligible noises (resembling monkey calls) gibe = tease, joke giggle = laugh repeatedly and nervously in a girlish manner >> giggle one's head off = giggle vigorously or uncontrollably gingerly = cautiously especially in fear of pain girder = large and strong metal beam acting as a support in a building structure girth = measurement around something (especially around a person's waist) glade = pleasant open area inside a forest glean = obtain information by careful and lengthy study gleeful = delighted, merry glitch = malfunction, error in the workings of an electrical system gloating = expressing or feeling satisfaction at someone else's misfortune gloom = near darkness also gloomy = dark and depressing Gloucestershire = county in western England gnawing = biting repeatedly gnome >> garden gnome = plaster or concrete fairy or gnome-like figure used to 'decorate' gardens go >> have a go = try goad = tease maliciously gobble up = eat greedily gobsmacked = (slang) totally amazed goings-on = (slang) suspicious or (possibly) immoral actions or events goody-goody = excessively well-behaved and virtuous person gossip = talk excessively about other people's business grace = God's love and forgiveness gracile = gracefully thin or slender graft = (Br slang) work graphic = clearly and precisely visible, expressed strongly in a visual form grasping = greedy (with regard to money and possessions) grate = irritate gratified = pleased, satisfied also gratification = pleasure, satisfaction gratuitous = unnecessary and without proper cause graveyard humour = black or disturbing humour grief = extreme sadness for example at the death of a loved one also (slang) confusion, problems, distress grimace = pull a face, make a strong facial expression gripe = moan, complain grisly = horrifying, disturbingly ugly also (of hair colour; often spelt 'grizzly') = rather grey groomed >> well-groomed = tidily and carefully cleaned and brushed grope = (slang) touch or fondle another person's body for one's own sexual pleasure grotesque = strange in an unpleasant or ugly way ground >> go to ground = find a safe hiding place gruesome = inspiring horror and disgust guard >> off guard = unprepared >> lower one's guard = show one's true feelings or thoughts guarded = cautious, wary, hiding one's true opinions gunwale = the top side edges of a boat gurgle = make a sound like water flowing down a drain; for example: a small baby's laughter gut = stomach gut feeling = instinctive feeling or belief gutsy = boldly enthusiastic gutter = channel at edge of road where rain water collects and flows hacksaw = carpenter's tool especially for sawing harder or metal objects hag-ridden = harassed by a woman or witch >> "hag-ride" seems to be a newly invented verb based on the normal adj. form hairy = (slang) scary, frightening hallowed = sacred, holy haltingly = uncertainly, hesitantly ham-fisted = clumsy hang >> get the hang of = become familiar with, begin to understand hang with = (slang) spend time with haphazard = unplanned and without clear logic harangue = shout angry complaints harass = persistently or repeatedly bother, attack or question Harpy = Greek mythical monster, half woman half bird of prey hassle = (slang) trouble, bother haunt = (noun) a place where one regularly spends time; (verb) continually trouble somebody's thoughts haven = safe harbour, place of comfort and security hazardous = dangerous haze = misty conditions or appearance often caused by heat or hot weather head off = set off, begin a journey; also see giggle or laugh one's head off heart-rending = causing great emotional pain heed >> pay heed to = consider carefully heels >> head over heels = totally in love also hot on the heels of = immediately behind helping = portion of food hem = sown-over edge of a piece of clothing herald = precede, bring in, announce hermetically sealed = closed without access to the outside air, airtight hideaway = hiding place hideous = horrifyingly ugly hidey-hole = hiding place hilarious = very funny hindsight = knowledge or understanding gained after the event hit it off = get on well, have a good relationship (with somebody) hit the sack = (slang) go to sleep, go to bed honours >> do the honours = perform an action on behalf of the whole group (of people present) hooch = illegally made alcoholic spirit hoof = foot of certain animals eg a horse >> "on the hoof" = while walking hook >> off the hook = no longer suspected also 'engaged' (with land-line telephones) hooker = (slang) prostitute horny = (slang) sexually aroused hotchpotch = jumbled or confused mixture hubbub = noisy confusion hubby = informal word for "husband" huddle = gather together in a close group; move closer towards somebody to gain comfort hue = colour humiliation = experiencing great shame hung up = (slang) upset, obsessed hyped up = (slang) excited hyperbolically = with exaggeration, unnecessarily complicated hypodermic syringe = needle for injecting liquid beneath the skin hypostasis = settling of blood in the body after death idiosyncratic = individual, uniquely original ignite = set alight, start (something) burning ill-starred = unlucky, opposed by fate illustrious = distinguished, deservedly famous imbibe = old-fashioned expression for "drink (alcohol)" imitation = [music] compositional technique where melodies from one part or voice in the texture are systematically repeated in other parts or voices immaculate = perfect, spotlessly tidy immediacy = strongly direct feeling or experience imminent = just about to happen immoderate = going too far in terms of what is healthy or morally acceptable immutable = unchangeable, permanent impair = reduce effectiveness or usefulness impassive = calm, not showing obvious emotion impending = soon to happen imperceptible = not noticeable, too small or insignificant to notice impersonation = imitation of another person's (especially a famous person's) voice and mannerisms impervious = cannot be penetrated (especially by water) impetuosity = behaving in a spontaneous manner without fully thinking of the consequences impish = playful, mischievous (like a small mischievous sprite or fairy) implacable = unforgiving impoverished = extremely poor, penniless impressionist = artist employing the stylistic characteristics of impressionism also comedian or actor who mimics other (in particular famous) people's voices, facial expressions, etc. improper = immoral >> impropriety = unethical or immoral behaviour incandescent = glowing like a hot flame incarceration = being locked up in prison incisive = cutting incompatible with = cannot fit together with or coexist with incorporeality = lacking solid physical form incredulous = unbelieving, refusing to believe increment = an increase incriminating = showing evidence of criminal behaviour indelible = impossible to erase or remove indifferent = having little or no interest (in something) indignity = embarrassment, loss of one's sense of self-worth or self-esteem indiscretion = mistaken or inappropriate action, giving away of secret or private information [also see "discreet"] indisposition = mild (not serious) illness indisputable = impossible to disagree with indomitable = not easily defeated, courageous indulge = be patient with, spoil (a person) inert = not moving, lifeless also inertia = lack of energy or motivation inexorable = unstoppable in extremis = (Latin) in desperate circumstances, at the point of death infatuation = immature (and usually short-lived) feelings of love (for somebody) infirmity = illness, physical weakness or disability inflict = force something on an unwilling person especially pain or suffering infringe on = encroach on [see above] in for >> "he's got it in for you" = "he wants to make trouble for you" infuriating = extremely irritating ingenious = cleverly designed ingenuous = innocent, naive ingest = eat or drink ingratiate = consciously try to get oneself liked or favoured by another person especially a person of higher status iniquity = wickedness initiative = ability to begin or carry through something inkling = slight suggestion or suspicion innards = insides; stomach, intestines, etc. innate = present at birth, inborn inscrutable = mysterious, difficult to analyse or understand insinuate = get oneself gradually and cleverly into a situation usually for personal advantage insolence = disrespectful behaviour insubstantial = of little weight, flimsy [see above] integrity = honesty, high-morality intemperance = lack of self-control intently = with much concentration intercept = catch or stop somebody on their way to somewhere interminable = (almost unbearably) never-ending intermingle = mix together intersect = cross paths intervene = come between two people arguing, step in to handle a problem intimidate = threaten, discourage, weaken another person's self-confidence intricate = cleverly complicated intriguing = fascinating intruder = someone who enters a home or building uninvited invulnerable = impossible to harm or defeat ire = anger iridescent = glowing, bright irksome = irritating, boring, tedious irreverent = lacking respect (especially in a religious context) issue forth = (old-fashioned, very formal) come out, emerge 'istory, etc >> London accent features: 'h' sound dropped from beginnings of words. Examples: 'iz = his; 'im = him; 'izself = himself; 'e = he; 'e'd 'ad = he'd had; 'az = has; 'iccups = hiccups; 'ole = whole; 'Andel = Handel; 'ard = hard; an 'undred = a hundred; 'ammered = hammered; 'th' sound becomes 'f or 'v. Examples: wiv = with; anuvver = another; fings = things; muvver = mother; the word 'wot' in the text represents "what" in situations where 'who' or 'that' would generally be considered more 'grammatical'.

jammed = squeezed also stuck jarring = disturbing or painful to the ears (or other senses) jeopardize = put in danger also >> double jeopardy = (in law) being tried in court a second time for the same crime jerry-built = built in a hurry and with inferior materials jest >> in jest = joking jettison = throw away, get rid of jetty = wooden structure projecting into the water where boats can dock jibe [alternative spelling of 'gibe': see above] jinx = evil spirit bringing bad luck jittery = nervous, restless job on hand = present job, job now needing attention jocular vein >> Adrian's play on words: jocular = humorous or joking & "in a jocular vein" = "in a humorous style or manner"; meanwhile jugular vein = large vein in the neck that returns blood from the head to the heart; also "go for the jugular" = strongly attack the enemy's weakest spot john = (Br slang) prostitute's customer joint >> [see 'nose' below] jolly along = to encourage in a cheerful way (Br) Jolly hockey sticks! : (old-fashioned) supposedly upper-class schoolgirl's expression = "How nice!" [Now usually used sarcastically.] jolt = sudden bump or shock jot = write down quickly for future reference jowl >> heavily jowled = with a sagging, over-fleshy jaw line joy rider = person (usually adolescent) who steals a car for the excitement of driving it (often dangerously) judgemental = making critical judgements about another person's behaviour juggler = performer who throws and catches several objects at the same time just >> the just = those who behave justly towards others >> just deserts = appropriate punishment kerb = raised edge of pedestrian pavement next to the road kick-start = start (something) decisively [like kick-starting a motorbike with the foot] kid or kiddy = child killjoy = person who prevents or discourages others from enjoying themselves kindred spirit = person with whom one feels great empathy kit = set of components from which something may be built or constructed knocking-shop = (Br slang) brothel knockout = extremely impressive person, thing or event laboured = overdone, exaggerated laden = weighed down, burdened ladle = large spoon or bowl-shaped tool for transferring liquids eg water or soup >> ladleful = amount of liquid contained in a ladle lads >> the lads = a man's group of male friends or acquaintances (e.g. in a pub, sports club, etc) landing = floor or corridor at the top of stairs or between two flights of stairs Land of Song = common nickname for Wales (referring to the Welsh nation's fame for having excellent singing voices) lank = long and hanging straight (possibly untidy, even dirty) lapels = folded sides of a jacket continuing down from the collar large >> at large = in general largo = slow and dignified piece >> Handel's largo = instrumental piece based on his Aria Ombra mai fù and >> "largo louts" is a play on words from the slang expression: "lager louts" = drunk, rowdy and aggressive young men (especially those on holiday abroad) lascivious = exciting sexual desire lashes = strokes of a whip latch onto = attach oneself to, take (mental) hold of latent = possessing unused potential, dormant laugh >> have the last laugh = get one's revenge >> laugh one's head off = laugh vigorously or uncontrollably launch = begin, set in motion lavish = available in large, generous amounts lead = electric cable or wire also direction or clue to be followed up in an investigation leak >> go for a leak = (slang) urinate lean times = periods of time with little food or resources learned = educated, well-read, knowledgeable lectern = speaker's or lecturer's upright desk (for keeping papers and lecture notes) ledge = narrow shelf or strip attached to a wall legacy = gift made according to a will (i.e. last testament) legion = (adjective) numerous, large in number lech after = lust after, desire sexually lethal = certain to cause death level-headed = sensible, not easily panicked lever = (noun) straight handle used for operating a machine, etc.; (verb) turn or bend, manipulate into a new position, encourage or force somebody to cooperate liability = somebody who gets in the way or prevents a successful result liberate = free also (ironic slang) steal liaison = relationship, (especially sexual) contact ligature = a thread or wire tied around something, especially to limit flow [also see "noose"] likes >> the likes of... = somebody like... lilt = music-like flow lineage = family line linger = delay leaving, be reluctant to leave lingo = (slang) language listless = restless, unable to concentrate loathe = hate with disgust loins = (Biblical language) lower abdomen really meaning male sexual organs loll = hang loosely loo = (Br polite slang) toilet, WC, (Am equivalent = washroom, bathroom) loom = stand dominantly high (perhaps threateningly) above loony = mad person (Br slang) loop >> out of the loop = not involved, not in the inner circle or group loose tongues = people who gossip louring = dark and threatening lucrative = well-paid ludicrous = absurd lugubrious = excessively miserable lull = quiet period between more generally noisy or busy ones >> as in the idiom "lull before the storm" = a deceptively quiet moment before something dramatic or disastrous happens; Miranda changes "storm" to "maelstrom" i.e. a powerful whirlpool that sucks everything into itself lunacy = madness lure = [noun] temptation, draw also [verb] tempt or draw away by promising a reward lurk = hide (in a threatening manner) luscious = deliciously attractive luxuriant = thickly leaved mac = macintosh ie raincoat Mac = Apple Macintosh computer madcap = reckless, impulsive make-believe = imaginary situations or events often as a child's pretend game malaise = feeling of mild depression or sickness malevolent = wishing or intending evil malicious = wishing evil malleable = easily moulded or manipulated Manchurian = person from Manchester mandatory = compulsory mannerism = typical act or behaviour manoeuvre = carefully planned and calculated action mantle = cloak mar = spoil or disfigure marginally = only just, not significantly marital status = whether married or unmarried mash = mashed potatoes (Br) mate = (biological terminology) have sexual intercourse maudlin = excessively sentimental >> maudlin spiel = lengthy and excessively sentimental speech maunder = wander with no clear direction max = (spoken) short form of maximum mayhem = violent & destructive confusion mead = wine made from fermented honey (often with added spices) meander = move from side to side like a slowly winding river measure >> for good measure = taking or doing a bit extra to be sure it's enough mediocrity = being no more than just average or ordinary medium = artistic channel through which an artist reaches the audience megalith = giant stone [as used in prehistoric monuments like Stonehenge] ménage à trois = (French) a sexual arrangement involving two men & a woman, or two women & a man mendacious = lying, untruthful mentor = wise and trusted adviser or guide Mercutio: Romeo's quixotic and humorous friend in Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet mete out = distribute or share (usually something unpleasant) meticulously = thoroughly, with attention to the smallest detail mewl = (Shakespearean word) cry like a baby midriff = area of the body between chest and waist milieu = surroundings, location, environment mill around = move about in a random manner mimic = copy or imitate another person's voice and/or mannerisms also mimic to a 'tee' = mimic exactly mind-boggling = (slang) astounding, more than the mind can properly handle or understand mindset = way of thinking especially when inflexible or hard to change ministrations = actions of assistance or support (especially when) performed by a priest or clergyman minute = tiny, very small mire = bog, marsh miscarriage = loss of a fetus (partially formed baby) born too early to survive mischievous = naughty, teasing misdemeanour = small crime misguided = following or acting upon mistaken or inappropriate ideas miss >> give it a miss = (Br slang) not bother with it, not try it moan = complain; make a long low sound expressing pain, unhappiness, or extreme pleasure MO >> see modus operandi mock = pretend, false mockery = making fun of, laughing at modicum = small amount modulate = control the tone or volume (of a sound or voice) modus operandi = procedure, way of performing a task molest = physically abuse momentous = of great significance monogamania >> Phillip's own mixture of "monogamy" = marrying one person only and the suffix "-mania" = a craze or exaggerated enthusiasm (for something) Montezuma's revenge = acute diarrhoea: ironic reference to American tourists visiting Mexico moodiness = changeable in mood; showing bad temper or unhappiness moron = idiot also moronic = idiotic morose = unsociable, untalkative, bad-tempered mortal fear = fear of dying >> under mortal threat = threatened with death motions >> going through the motions = doing something only out of habit or a sense of duty moue = (originally French) small but critical facial expression mourn = show sorrow and respect for a person who has recently died muck about = (slang) be silly, behave in a foolish or joking manner muck-stirring = (Br slang) spreading malicious gossip muddle through = try to manage in spite of difficulties (Br) mugger = street thief (often using violence or the threat of violence) mug-shot = photograph of the face especially one taken by the police for official records mumbo jumbo = foolish ritualistic language, meaninglessly overcomplicated speech muse = consider to oneself, be thoughtful muster = gather together also pass muster = manage reasonably well mute = make silent also >> muted = quiet (colours) or muffled (sounds), as with a mute (It. sordino) for string & brass instruments of the orchestra mutilate = permanently injure and/or disfigure nab = catch, grab nag = repeatedly criticize in an irritating way nail (somebody) = expose or prove (somebody's) guilt nape = back of the neck narcissistic = self-loving nasty piece of work = (Br) cruel and unpleasant person natter = chat, talk at length about nothing serious navel = belly button, remains of the physical connection to one's mother until birth necro : Tero's own shortened version of "necrophilia" = sexual intercourse with a dead body neither here nor there = of no importance neoclassical = in the arts: a conscious return to classical models nerve >> lose one's nerve = lose courage never-never >> on the never-never = (slang) on hire purchase, paying for something afterwards in monthly amounts niceties = (social) refinements of behaviour nick = small crack or cut along the edge of something nightcap = (alcoholic) drink taken just before bedtime nipper = (Br slang) small child nit-pick = be pedantically critical nominal = of minimal size or value noncommittal = giving no definite answer, expressing nothing definite about one's opinions nondescript = without obvious or interesting characteristics noose = a knotted loop of rope, wire, etc which tightens when pulled nose >> "put somebody's nose out of joint" = really irritate somebody; also >> "rub somebody's nose in it" = enjoy reminding somebody of their bad luck or unhappiness nosiness = excessive interest in other people's business notch = step or level also V-shaped nick or cut notorious = famous for negative reasons nubile = (of a young woman) newly arrived at sexual maturity, sexually attractive numb = anaesthetized, feeling little or nothing nurture = help to grow obliging = helpful obliterate = wipe out, destroy completely oblivious = unaware, not noticing obnoxious = very distasteful, extremely unpleasant obscene = disgustingly immoral obscure = difficult to see or understand obsequious = exaggeratedly helpful intending to flatter observance = following of a traditional (especially religious) rite or formal procedure obsession = idea or desire that cannot be forgotten ocular fluid = liquid inside the eye odious = inspiring disgust or contempt offence = criminal act; anger or hurt feelings; something that causes anger or hurt feelings offender = criminal, someone who breaks the law officious = unnecessarily or exaggeratedly 'official' in manner ogle = amorous or lustful stare ominous = warning of coming difficulties or evil ooze = flow slowly and thickly opportunistic = taking spontaneous advantage of an unexpected opportunity ops = military abbreviation for "operations" opt for = choose option = choice, alternative also >> keep one's options open = delay a decision because there are other alternatives still available opulent = luxurious, showing great wealth ornate = ornamental, decorated with attractive details ostensibly = seeming to, pretending to ostentatious = theatrically exaggerated, showy outcropping = rock formation showing through or sticking out of the ground's surface outhouse = a smaller extra building separated from the main building (= Am. outbuilding) outraged = shocked and angry outrageous = shocking outright = completely, immediately, openly outstay one's welcome = stay too long ovation = show of great praise overboard >> go overboard = take something too far or too seriously overdrive = very high gear used at high motoring speeds overdue = late overendowment = possessing more advantages than are necessary or fair override = take priority over oversight = mistake caused by forgetting or not noticing something overt = obvious, plain to see, stated directly and openly over the top = totally exaggerated, taken too far overwhelming = impossible to fight or resist oxymoronic = placing two words or ideas together that conflict in meaning [also see "moron" above] pacify = make peaceful, calm (somebody) down pale = (adjective) lacking strong colour; (verb) become dull or empty in feeling pallor = paleness, lack of colour especially in the face palpable = obvious, easily felt or noticed pamper = spoil, treat (perhaps too) well but with affection panache = behaving in a lively, self-confident and stylish manner pane = a single piece of glass in a window pangs of conscience = uncomfortable or painful feelings of guilt panting = breathing heavily Papal bull = formal document issued by the Pope >> [NB: "bull" is also slang for "rubbish" or "nonsense"; probably a shortened version of "bullshit"] papier-mâché = modelling material made from small pieces of paper first soaked and then dried paradigm = stereotypical example paramount = of the greatest importance parapet = low wall around the edge of a roof pariah = social outcast, person hated and despised by the community parry = block an attack or blow (as in boxing or sword fighting) parsimonious = extremely careful with money or resources partial to = have a taste for pass >> make a pass = make a sexual advance pass the torch = pass on responsibility for continuing an important task or tradition patchy = uneven in quality, not successful everywhere or always pater = uncommon & old-fashioned (Latin origin) word for "father" paternal = (adjective) in connection with a father or fathers pauper = person living in poverty, penniless person peaky = pale and sickly, ill looking peal of laughter = bright sound of laughing Pearly Gates = (slang) the entrance to heaven peccadillo = sinful act peck = quick kiss peckish = a bit hungry (Br) peddle = sell especially in the street or unofficially pedigree = history of family line, genealogy peer = look hard at something especially with narrowed eyes peevied = (slang) irritated, angry peltast = ancient Greek foot soldier armed with light shield & javelin penetrate = find or force a way into penitent = ashamed, very apologetic pent-up = imprisoned, repressed perched = sitting or standing on the edge or close to danger peril = great danger and perilous = very dangerous perimeter = outside edge especially of an area of land perk = (abbreviation of "perquisite") extra (sometimes unofficial) benefit coming from one's job permeate = leak or spread totally into perpetrator = somebody performing a guilty or criminal act perplexing = puzzling, confusing, causing doubt peruse = read or examine carefully in one's own time pester = bother, annoy repeatedly peter out = fade away pet theory = favourite theory petting >> heavy petting = strongly erotic mutual caressing petty = unnecessarily mean or pedantic, unimportant pickings >> small pickings = small rewards or profit pinch = (Br slang) steal (NB Am equivalent might be "squeezed") pince-nez = glasses held on the nose only (without side pieces over the ears) >> pince-nezed = wearing pince-nez pinkie = (slang, mainly Am) little finger (i.e. fourth finger) pinup = photograph of a beautiful model, film star, etc (suitable for pinning up on one's wall) piquancy = spiciness, sharply interesting flavour pissed as wombats = extremely drunk: Phillip's own variation on the expression "pissed as rats". (NB in Am "pissed" = annoyed, angry) pit >> pit stop = brief stop during a motor race for repairs or refuelling also >> orchestra pit = place where musicians sit in an opera house or theatre pitch = frequency or level of a musical sound pit oneself against = fight with determination against pivotal = of decisive importance placate = make somebody less angry by saying or doing something pleasing placid = calm, unexcitable platitude = dull, common, overly predictable expression or thought plausible = reasonable, easy to believe pledge = promise pliable = easily moulded, soft plough through = work through a series of hard and/or boring tasks pluck up (courage) = gather or try to find enough courage (to do something) plume = feather, something resembling a feather in its shape plump = pleasantly and not excessively fat plunge >> take the plunge = dare to do something difficult ply one's trade = carry on one's commercial or business activity pogrom = organized attack on an ethnic group (especially Jews) poignant = deeply (even painfully) touching poised = dignified, self-possessed poky = (Br) lacking in space, claustrophobic ponce = (Br) a prostitute's male keeper, pimp ponder = think deeply and seriously ponderous = slow and (excessively) serious pools = (Br) large-scale organized gambling which involves guessing the results of coming football matches portal = large, impressive doorway or gate posse = (especially in the Wild West) a temporary group of men recruited by the sheriff to chase a criminal post-coital = after sexual intercourse posthaste = as quickly as possible post-proscenium: unusual expression meaning "after performing on stage" posture = manner of holding one's body when standing or sitting potboiler = work of 'art' produced quickly and mainly to make money pout = push out one's lips (as when kissing or when showing irritation or distaste) prank = childish joke preamble = introductory comments precarious = easily unbalanced precedent = an event which is afterwards used as an example to be followed precinct = district or area usually of a town or city precipice = high, vertical cliff preconception = idea formed before knowledge of all the facts, prejudice predator = animal that hunts another for food, person who hunts another for selfish sexual pleasure predilections = tastes, preferences predominantly = mainly, mostly pre-empt = perform an action before someone else has time to do the same prelim = (usually only spoken) short form of preliminary = initial, starting, preparatory premature ejaculation = reaching (specifically male) orgasm before achieving penetration premeditated = planned in advance premises = building premonition = vision of an event that will happen in the future preoccupied = lost in thought, concentrating >> preoccupation = being preoccupied preordained = decided beforehand Pre-Raphaelite >> refers to an English 19th century artistic movement press charges = take somebody to court for criminal acts prestigious = highly respected pretext = excuse prevailing = widespread, most typical prezzie (written as 'PREZY' in phone SMS) = a present, gift (Br slang) prim = precise & formal primeval = ancient primordial = ancient, primitive, from the dawn of time prise (open) = (Br) carefully force open (NB Am equivalent would be "pry") private means = regular income from family or property privy to = sharing secret or private knowledge about probe = search into, question closely procreate = produce children prodigy >> child prodigy = a child showing exceptional early talent or genius profane = unholy also >> profanities = swear words, oaths profusely = freely and extravagantly programmatic = [music] following a clear story line, based directly on a literary subject promontory = (pointed) land sticking out into the sea or a lake, headland propel = push or throw forcefully prop = lean against, support from the side proprietary = (adjective) in connection with ownership of something protégée [feminine form with final "-e"] = person guided and supported by another (especially in professional life) protrude = stick out provenance = documented history of a valuable object providential = fortunate, fateful provisional = temporary, for the time being provocative = intended to stimulate a strong (probably angry) reaction prow = (pointed) front of a boat proxy = authority to act (eg sign a document) on behalf of somebody else prudish = excessively shy or narrow-minded in sexual matters prying = unwelcomely curious pub crawl = visiting a number of pubs in sequence in the same evening pubis = region of the lower abdomen situated above the outer sexual organs (generally covered in hair) puffed-up = proud of oneself pulchritude = less common (Latin origin) word for "beauty" pulpit = raised platform or dais in a church where a priest (etc) reads or speaks to the congregation pun = play on words involving two words of different meaning with the same or similar sound or spelling punter = (Br slang) customer purse one's lips = close and round one's lips as if about to kiss pursuit = hobby, activity put somebody away = put somebody in prison put somebody off = stop somebody concentrating, discourage somebody's interest or enthusiasm, persuade somebody not to participate or attend (at least, not yet) quadrangle = rectangular courtyard; possibly snobbish word for school playground quarry = animal or person being hunted quarters >> at close quarters = very close together (especially in combat, i.e. in a fight) quash = suppress, reject or make invalid by force or from a position of authority queer = (slang) homosexual quell = subdue, calm (verb) quench = put out (a fire) >> "Put out the light . . . etc." Quote from Shakespeare's Othello: as Othello murders his wife out of misplaced jealousy.

quickie = (slang) short and rapid sexual intercourse (possibly in a public place) quibble = argue about small, unimportant matters quicken = intensify, bring life to quick on one's feet = fast to react in a demanding situation quintessential = most typical, most representative quip = joke >> a killing joke (or quip) = an extremely funny joke quirk = person's individual and peculiar mannerism >> quirky = showing or using quirks in one's behaviour quits >> call it quits = agree to end a contest or argument quiz = question (somebody) in great detail >> quizzical = showing interest in the answer to something, showing puzzlement or doubt

R & D = research and development racy = lively & spirited (perhaps with a hint of sexual impropriety) rag >> lose one's rag = (Br) lose one's temper ragged = untidy, disorganized raging thirst = powerful thirst rail against (somebody) = complain bitterly to (somebody) railings = metal 'fence' around a balcony, stairs, a garden or park rally = get back one's strength or determination >> rally to = come to someone's aid, give support to ramble = talk in an unfocused way at unnecessary length >> ramblings = lengthy and unfocused talking rampant = gone wild, out of control rancour = irritation, anger ranks >> close ranks = work together to protect a team or group member ranting and raving = shouting like a mad person rat somebody out = tell about somebody's crimes or misbehaviour (NB alternative: "rat on somebody") rattled = (Br) upset, confused, uncertain, losing confidence raven = shiny black colour [after the bird of the same name] realm = kingdom reappraise = take another look to reconsider something's value rebuff = reject or refuse in a sharp manner recede = fade, lose intensity reckless = taking foolish risks reclusive = avoiding others' company, spending much time alone recoil = sharp backward reaction (like a gun when it is fired) reconcile contradictions = explain away seemingly impossible differences reconnaissance = gathering information about an enemy's position or movements recoup = get back recourse = alternative or solution redemption = being set free from one's sins (for example, in the Christian religion by the death of Christ) red-light district = area where prostitutes gather redundant = not needed reedy = shrill, high-pitched, thin-sounding refrain from = stop oneself from (doing something) register = (in linguistics) style of language for a specific social situation or subject rein >> give full rein to = give complete freedom to >> reined in = tightly controlled reincarnate = reborn, turned back into physical form rejoinder = quick and clever reply rekindle = set alight again, reawaken (feelings) relegate = place in a less important position or category relentless = never giving up, never relaxing in intensity relief = picture which stands out 3-dimensionally from its background relish = enjoy to the full especially flavours reminiscent of = similar to, reminding one of remorse = feelings of guilt or regret rendering = interpretation, version rendezvous = meeting repercussions = negative consequences replete with = overflowing with, richly full of replica = copy reprehensible = deserving blame or criticism reprimand = (official) criticism for bad behaviour reprisal = act of revenge or retaliation (often against civilian targets) in time of war reproach = criticize, draw attention to a person's bad behaviour requisition = officially take control of, take into police, army or government use resent = feel bitter (about something) also resentment = feelings of bitterness or of being unfairly treated reservations = uncertainties, doubts residence = home residual = still remaining resilient = able to stand stress or difficulties resolve = decision made with certainty or determination resort to = be forced to use a less satisfactory alternative respite = rest period, relief from worry or strain restraining order = legal court order to stay away from somebody else (for example wife, ex-girlfriend, child) resume = start again, return to (an activity) also résumé = summary, shortened version resurge = flow back retaliate = fight back reticent = reserved, quietly spoken, talking no more than necessary retort = answer quickly, perhaps also cleverly often with annoyance or anger retract = take back retribution = punishment, revenge retrospect >> in retrospect = looking back (after the event) rev (up) = run a car engine (noisily) at high speed revel = make merry, party in a noisy manner >> revel in = thoroughly enjoy revelation = sudden understanding revenue = income revere = [verb] respect highly, honour, worship Rhondda Valley: in South Wales; once famous for its coal mining industry, though last mine closed 1990 rictus = fixed uncontrollable grin usually in response to fear or horror rife = widespread rigueur >> incorrect spelling of rigueur! Will be corrected in a later edition. [See "de rigueur" above.] righteous >> the righteous = those who follow in God's path rigmarole = long complicated process or speech especially when pointless or incomprehensible rile up = make angry ringer >> dead ringer = person who looks identical to another rip somebody off = cheat somebody of money or goods, steal from somebody (Br slang) robb'd >> "She that's robb'd... etc": Adrian is quoting (not quite correctly) from Shakespeare's Othello rote >> learn by rote = learn mechanically by constant repetition (perhaps without true understanding) rough (behaviour) = violent (behaviour) round >> my round = my turn to buy drinks for everybody rouse = wake up, prompt (somebody or oneself) to action rout = drive an enemy away in defeat and confusion rowdy = noisy and confused, loudly anarchic rowing boat = Am rowboat rowlocks = U-shaped metal supports for the oars of a boat RP = received pronunciation: linguistics term for so-called Oxford or BBC English pronunciation rub >> [see 'nose' above] rudimentary = basic rueful = regretful (often used in an ironic way when thinking about oneself) ruffle somebody's feathers = upset or irritate somebody rumble >> ready to rumble = ready for violent or exciting action (especially a 'street gang fight' as in West Side Story) runner >> do a runner = (Br slang) leave suddenly, escape, run away running trots = acute diarrhoea (Br slang) sacrilege = misuse of something holy or deserving great respect sacrosanct = holy, untouchable sail close to the wind = take dangerous risks salubrious = good for one's health, luxurious salvation = being rescued or saved sanctimonious = narrow-minded and self-important sanctity = holiness, moral value deserving the highest respect sanctuary = place of safety sapling = young tree sassy = cheeky, insolent, disrespectful satiated = completely satisfied savour = taste, smell or otherwise enjoy with pleasure savvy = (slang) clever, sharp, well-informed scald = burn with hot liquid or steam scalp = skin on top of the head from which the hair grows scapegoat = somebody blamed for another person's actions scanty = very limited, barely enough scarce >> make oneself scarce = leave, disappear scatty = (Br) absentminded, empty-headed (NB: Am equivalent = "flighty") scheming = manipulating situations and people to one's own selfish advantage scoop = sensational piece of news (especially when appearing in just one newspaper) also pick up with a sideways movement scoop-necked = rounded- & low-necked score (noun) = printed music showing the parts for every instrument together score (verb) = succeed in finding a sexual partner (Br slang) scourge = means of causing great suffering scramble = climb or move in a struggling manner scramble up = mix up screw around = have promiscuous sex screw up = fail badly, make a mess of something scruff of the neck = back of the neck especially of dogs & cats scrupulous = careful, precise scrutiny = careful & detailed study >> scrutinize = study carefully and in detail scuzzy = (slang) untidy, old and/or dirty sea-change = magical change or transformation [invented by Shakespeare in The Tempest] seam = line where two pieces of cloth are sown together searing = burning (the surface of something) seasoned = experienced secateurs = (Br) strong scissors-like tool used by gardeners for pruning (cutting) bushes and trees secluded spot = quiet place away from other people sedated = asleep or calmed by drugs sedentary = sitting, seated seedy = worn-out, no longer smart in appearance seep out = leak out slowly seethe = moving violently or feeling violent emotions in a way similar to a boiling liquid self-delusion = fooling oneself into believing something untrue self-imposed = forced upon oneself by oneself self-indulgent = allowing oneself to take (often unnecessary or excessive) pleasure in something self-righteous = overconfident about one's own sense of morality sequester = legally occupy somebody's home or property usually only for a temporary period serenity = peacefulness, (quiet) calm serration = fine tooth-like edge to a knife blade settle for = accept as sufficient (i.e. enough) sever = cut shabby = old & worn-out sham = something false or faked shard = sharp broken piece of glass or metal shed = throw off (as a dog sheds its winter fur or a snake sheds its old skin) sheepish = shy, embarrassed shillyshally = (slang) be indecisive, hesitate over an important decision ship oars = remove oars from the water and place them inside the boat or along the gunwales shoo out = drive or chase out especially annoying people or animals shoot = photographic or cinematographic session show something off = display something with pride shreds = torn pieces >> tear (an alibi) down in shreds = show (it) to be totally false shrine = place used for remembrance and worship of somebody or something holy shrinking violet = shy person usually female (Br slang) shudder = shake or tremble violently shun = avoid, ignore shy >> [see "twice shy"] sidetracked = led away from one's correct or intended path sidle = walk or move sideways signify = indicate, show simplistic = too simple, naïve skew = twist, distort skimpy = small and lightweight, made of very little material slacken = make looser >> slacken one's speed = go more slowly slag heap = a hill made of stony waste matter from processing coal, etc. slam = throw hard slant = angle, appearance, viewpoint slatted = constructed with parallel strips of wood slattern = woman of untidy and dirty habits and appearance slaughter = kill, murder slide off = leave quietly without comment slime = unpleasant and slippery mud or similarly textured material also (slang) shameful & disgusting people slipshod = careless, lazy, with little attention to detail slob = lazy, untidy person or behave like a slob slouch = walk or sit lazily with lowered shoulders and bent back slump = relax or collapse ungracefully slurring = (of speech) unclear, difficult to understand slut = [abusive word for] a sexually immoral woman smallholding = (Br) very small farm smirk = smile uncontrollably or irritatingly smoochy = suitable for kissing and cuddling (i.e. 'smooching') on a dance floor smoulder = burn very slowly SMS (Short Message Service) = mobile phone text message smug = (too much) pleased with oneself >> smug bugger = (Br slang) irritatingly smug person snap judgement = quick decision or conclusion (often before having all of the important facts) snap up = take quickly before it's too late, grab snatch = take suddenly (by force) sneer = a look of distaste or derision, usually with the upper lip curled snide = (slang) sarcastic snog = (Br slang) heavy kissing session snub = behave abruptly and rudely (towards somebody) snuff = (slang) murder snugly = cozily social disease = venereal disease, sexually transmitted disease sodding = [Br mild swear word] annoying solace = comfort solicitous = showing consideration, concern and (perhaps) affection sole beneficiary = only person to receive the benefits (eg of a will or last testament) solfège = training the voice especially to sight-read music solicit = (of a prostitute) try to attract customers in a public place sommambulist = sleepwalker song >> for a song = very cheaply, almost free sonorous = richly, resonantly sounding sorcery = magic sordid = in bad taste, (socially) crude and unpleasant sound = reliable, logical sound post = wooden 'stick' transmitting vibrations from top to bottom faces of a violin body sour grapes = envy spasmodically = in short broken periods of activity spectre = ghostly figure speculative = considering, thoughtful sped = past & perfect form of the verb to speed spellbound = fascinated, hypnotized spew = fly outwards in a stream, vomit spiel = (slang) excessive or lengthy talking especially in support of a specific idea spilling = pouring out (like a liquid) through lack of space spin-doctor = person (usually in politics) responsible for making a bad situation appear positive spinster = woman who has never been married spite = small-minded wish to hurt or humiliate someone spittle = saliva, spit, liquid forming in the mouth splayed = spread out at an (awkward) angle spleen = bad temper, spitefulness split = (slang) leave spur >> on the spur of the moment = spontaneously, without previous planning splutter = spit out explosively, choke (on one's food) spooky = ghostly spotted dick = an English sponge pudding containing raisins sprawl = lie lazily, taking up much space spread-eagled = lying with outstretched arms and legs (taking up the maximum space possible) spree = session of excessive self-indulgence sprung hinge = a device (sometimes pneumatic) that automatically closes a door after it has been left open spurious = false, not genuine spurn = reject especially in matters of love squat = [adj] short and broad; [verb] adopt a low position with knees bent and shoulders forward squeal = high-pitched sound made for example by braking car tyres squeamish = easily disturbed by or sensitive to the sight of blood, injury, etc.

squint = look with one's eyes almost closed squirm = wriggle like a worm or snake staff = heavy stick for hiking >> "break my [magic] staff... etc": quote from Prospero's epilogue in Shakespeare's The Tempest stagger = walk uncertainly and irregularly (eg as if drunk) stairwell = vertical space in a building down the middle of successive flights of stairs stake = heavy wooden post stakeout = police surveillance stalk = follow (somebody) quietly and in secret especially repeatedly or regularly stalk off = walk away with long, decisive steps (possibly in anger) stark = without ornament, desolate startling = surprising stash = (slang) store (especially secretly) station >> above one's station = higher than one's true social class stationer = shop selling paper, pens, office materials, etc stature = body size and shape stave = the five parallel lines upon which music is notated steam >> under one's own steam = without help from others steel oneself = prepare oneself for determined (and difficult) action steeple = tall pointed (church) tower >> steeple (verb) = imitate the shape of a steeple step up = increase in intensity or frequency stern = the rear end of a boat stick it out = not give up, keep going sticks >> out in the sticks = (slang) far away from the city centre still = equipment (usually illegal) used for manufacturing alcoholic spirits stinking rich = (slang) extremely rich stint oneself = limit oneself with regard to luxuries or pleasures stocky = solidly, thickly built (of body shape) stonewall = be uncooperative, obstruct by refusing to give direct answers to questions stoop = bend over slightly, not stand straight stow = store, leave in a safe place stagnant = without flow or movement, stale, dull straddling = on both sides of straggler = person left behind or unable to keep up with others strains = musical sounds or melodies straitened circumstances = bad financial situation strand = single length of something long & thin (eg hair, wire, rope, wool) stratagem = clever way of achieving something especially by fooling an opponent or enemy streak >> reckless streak = tendency to put oneself in danger or act unwisely strenuous = energetic strides >> make strides = make progress stroke = breaking of a blood vessel in the brain strut = walk in a self-important way (like a cockerel) stubborn = refusing to change one's mind or cooperate stub out = pushing the burning end of a cigarette or cigar against something to put it out stuff >> bits of stuff = (slang) sexy young women stumble = trip, lose one's footing also stumble on = find by chance stunning = amazing stunt = crazy or dangerous act sturdy = strongly built subcutaneous = beneath the skin subdue = defeat, control, make quiet >> also subdued = quiet, retiring sublime = noble, of high aesthetic, intellectual or spiritual value subliminal = below the level of consciousness submission = accepting defeat, giving up resistance subtle = difficult to define or analyse subservient to = less important than, under the control of subside: short for subsidiary (i.e. additional) subject substance abuse = official terminology for illegal use of drugs substantiation = proof or confirmation that something is true subtle = having a quiet/gentle but significant effect, difficult to analyse or define succulent = full of juice, freshly ripe, exciting desire succumb = give in, surrender sullen = unwilling to be sociable or friendly sultry = sensuous and passionate in appearance (especially of a darker skinned woman) summon = request or demand that somebody comes >> summon up = try to find or gather the necessary resources especially courage or strength sundry >> all and sundry = absolutely anybody supercilious = behaving in a proud and scornful manner superfluous = unnecessary, no longer useful superstition = irrational belief in 'supernatural' consequences from certain actions (eg bad luck after walking under a ladder, that 13 is an unlucky number, etc.) surge = strong (and sudden) wave (of water, electricity, etc) surmise = conclusion or explanation based on only limited evidence surreptitious = trying not to be noticed surrogate = substitute surveillance = close watching (often in secret) especially of a suspect suss out = (slang) realize swagger = extremely (perhaps excessively) proud behaviour and mannerisms swap over = exchange places swarthy = dark-skinned swathe = amount of cut grass or hay sway = change (someone's) opinion swivel = spin, turn on a fixed point sycophant = someone who flatters important people tableau = dramatically or theatrically laid out scene (often motionless) tabloid = smaller-format newspaper (eg Daily Mirror, National Inquirer, Ilta Sanomat) [compare "broadsheet" above] tack = (verb) take a zigzag course when sailing into the wind also (noun) direction tactile = involving the sense of touch tad = little bit, small amount tail off = become gradually quieter and then silent taint = contaminate, pollute, spoil tamper with = interfere with tangible = having a solid physical character tankard = large mug especially for beer tantamount to = as good as (saying), equivalent to taper = become narrower towards one end tardy = late, slow tassel = parallel loose threads or strips of material used as decoration on clothes, curtains, cushions, etc.

tatty = (Br slang) in bad condition taunt = tease (repeatedly) tedious = boring tee >> to a tee = (matching) perfectly, exactly teeth >> set one's teeth on edge = make one feel very uncomfortable or irritated tell on somebody = report somebody's wrongdoings to a boss or higher authority telltale = clearly showing or revealing the truth or certainty of something temper = soften or lighten the effect of (something) tempestuous = stormy temples = sides of the forehead tenant = somebody living in a house or flat especially a person paying rent tentative = cautious, hesitant, calculating the risks tenuous = weakly connected, unconvincing tepid = only slightly warm terminal = certain to cause death terminus = end stop of a bus, tram or train route terrain = local or natural environment, scenery tetchy = bad-tempered, easily irritated Thespian = actor (often used ironically) third degree = aggressive interrogation thong = narrow strip made of leather or similar material threshold = imaginary line crossed when passing through a doorway throes >> death throes = violent, convulsive movements in the final moments before death thwart = prevent success, frustrate ticking off = informal (usually not very serious) criticism for bad behaviour tidings = news tightknit = closely integrated timbre = sound 'colour' time warp = sudden shift to a different point in time [as in science fiction stories] tipping down = (Br) raining heavily tirade = long angry critical speech tiz-woz >> in a tiz-woz = confused, anxious, overexcited (Br) toddler = small child just learning to walk token = nominal, as a matter of duty only top >> over the top = extreme topped = (Br slang) killed, murdered torch >> pass the torch = pass on responsibility for continuing an important task or tradition torment = torture, continually tease or worry torpor = inactivity, apathy torrent = fast-flowing stream tosser = stupid, worthless person (Br slang: literally means 'masturbator'!) tow = pull (a car) away >> in tow = following (passively) tract = extended area (of land) trait = characteristic transfigure = change appearance completely (as if by a magical or holy act) transmute = transform, change the character or nature (of something) travesty = absurdly false imitation, mockery trawl for = search widely for treacherous = turning against one's own side or country treat >> "My treat!" = "I will pay for it." trek = make a long and difficult journey trepidation = fear trespasses = sins >> heard in The Lord's Prayer: "Forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. . . " trickle = flow in a thin stream trigger = the cause of an action or reaction trite = overused, boring trolleybus = bus taking power from overhead electric cables (Br) troop = move or march in an organized line trophy = prize, object that reminds one of success trump card = something valuable held in reserve (as in the game "bridge" where a card of higher value may be held back for later and more significant use) tryst = secret meeting between lovers tubular bells = orchestral percussion instrument that imitates church bells tuck under = push, fold or position something under >> tucked away = hidden, positioned or stored conveniently >> tucked up = comfortably settled usually in bed tug = pull tumult = emotional or mental disturbance, agitation turn off = kill (somebody's) interest (in something) [Phillip here creates his own variation on the common expression: "Whatever turns you on!", i.e. "Whatever excites you!" often used in a sexual sense.] turn on = (slang) something that creates sexual excitement turn oneself in = surrender oneself to the police turn over (a room, home, office, etc.) = to break in and steal valuables, probably leaving the place in a mess (Br) tweak = make small changes or adjustments to improve or repair something twice shy: refers to the saying "once bitten, twice shy" = avoid making the same mistake twice twinge = short, sharp feeling of pain typing pool = open plan office with a number of (usually female) typists tyrant = cruel and merciless dictator; tyrannical = [adj. form] ubiquity = seeming to be everywhere unabashed = not embarrassed or ashamed unassailable = cannot be attacked or disproved unassuming = modest, unpretentious unattainable = impossible to get or achieve unblinking = staring, eyes never closing uncanny = strange, beyond what is normally expected, supernatural unceremonious = sudden, without dignity uncondescending = without behaving in a superior way to others, without looking down on others as less intelligent or of lower status unconsenting = without giving permission or approval undaunted = not discouraged undemonstrative = reserved, not showing one's feelings very openly underpinning = something that gives foundation or validity underplay = present something as having less than its true significance or importance underway = already happening uneasy = (mentally or emotionally) uncomfortable, slightly nervous or worried unfazed = unconcerned, not bothered or put off unflinching = not turning away from difficulties or danger unfold = open something and spread it out; tell something gradually; develop or expand over time unfurl = unroll and flatten out unhallowed = unholy unjaded = not worn out by or tired of something in spite of long contact or experience with it unmanned = made incapable of action, cowardly unnerving = disconcerting, weakening one's courage unobtrusive = not obvious, not especially noticeable unpalatable = unattractive tasting, difficult to eat or accept unravel = find a solution to a complicated problem also unwind, come apart bit by bit unrestrainable = uncontrollable, unstoppable unsavoury = distasteful, immoral unscrupulous = ready to use any (even immoral) means to achieve a goal unsettling = slightly disturbing or worrying unsolicited = unasked for, unrequested untrammelled = unrestricted, uncontrolled unwarranted = undeserved, unnecessary and inappropriate unwind = relax, forget everyday stresses and worries unwittingly = without realising, unintentionally upbeat = optimistic, cheerful up for it = ready to do it uplifting = cheerful, raising one's spirit uproarious = loud and lively urge = strong need (to do something) or strongly persuade (somebody to do something) usher = lead, escort also person who assists audience in theatres and concert halls utensils = tools especially for use in the kitchen or for eating utmost = most or best possible vagabond = much travelled person with no permanent address vagrant = homeless person valiantly = bravely veg out = (slang) spend time doing nothing useful, being lazy vehicle = wheeled transport eg car, van, bus, tram, lorry, etc veiled = partly hidden vendor = seller vener = thin decorative layer (usually of wood) venerable = deserving respect because of great age, personal character & status venison = deer (or elk) meat vent = let out or show (for example: anger or frustration), release venture = speak or act cautiously in a potentially risky or uncertain situation venue = place where something (especially an organized event) happens veracity = truth verge >> on the verge = on the edge, just about to (do something) verily = old-fashioned word for indeed, in truth vernacular = everyday spoken language of a country or geographical region vernal = [adjective] in connection with the spring >> "Live life on the vernal edge!" Adrian combines two ideas: live life on the edge = take exciting risks and vernal edge supposedly means beginning of spring. vertiginous = producing a sense of dizziness or vertigo [vertigo = fear of being in high places] vestige = small remaining amount, trace viable = practicable, possible to achieve vicariously = sympathetically sharing (at second hand or from a distance) in someone else's experiences vicinity = neighbourhood, nearby area vile = disgustingly evil vindicate = show to be innocent or in the right violate = seriously mistreat physically (and/or emotionally), sexually assault, rape vitriolic = acidic, extremely bitter or hostile void = emptiness volition = choice voluptuous = (of women) sexually attractive in a full, curvaceous way vouch for = guarantee vulnerability = weakness, openness to attack waive = voluntarily give up or not claim something wallflower = (informal) shy person sitting alone at a party or dance wallow in = indulge oneself in waning = weakening or decreasing gradually wary = cautious in the face of trouble or danger washout = disappointment, failure watering hole = (earlier 20th century slang) pub or similar drinking place watershed = important dividing line, event of significant change wayward = wanting to have one's own way, unpredictable wench = (old-fashioned word) girl or young woman especially a lively, buxom one wheel = manipulate somebody with gentle (and possibly irritating) persuasion wherewithal = necessary resources or equipment (to perform some action) whiff = slight sniff or smell whisk = carry, take or remove quickly white-knuckled = gripping very hard with the hand(s), frightened wield = handle or use a weapon or tool Williephile >> Phillip's own invention which presumably means a lover of William Shakespeare [since the suffix: '-phile' means 'lover of'; see "Celtophile" above]. But 'willie' is also an informal British word for 'penis': mostly used when talking to children.

whim = sudden and relatively unimportant thought or idea also >> on a whim = impulsively, without planning or previous thought whimper = cry or sob quietly whiz kid = highly talented young person especially in science & technology field wield = use, apply wild-goose chase = attempting something absurd or hopeless will or last will & testament = official document telling how a person's possessions should be distributed after his or her death wimp = wimpy person [see next word] wimpy = weak, ineffectual, incapable of achieving results wince = sharp physical reaction to pain wind >> see "sail close to the wind" above windfall = something useful obtained unexpectedly by chance wind somebody up = (Br slang) intentionally try to annoy or panic somebody wings = (hidden) sides of a theatre or concert hall stage winning number >> "Every one a winning number!" = fair ground (Tivoli) lottery stall sales-cry winsome = charming wisecrack = (Am slang) joke, humorous comment wispy = light and curling wistful = sadly thoughtful, wishing for something wither = fade and fall away to nothing (especially of a plant or flower) withering = showing scorn or contempt wobbly = unsteady, unstable womanizer = man who seeks sexual liaisons with many different women, Don Juan woodwind = section of the orchestra: includes flutes, oboes, clarinets, bassoons & saxophones worm out = obtain information by persistent and persuasive questioning worse for wear = tired out and dishevelled after too much work, drinking, partying, etc.

wot: incorrect spelling of "what" to represent Phillip's intentionally 'ungrammatical' use of "what" where "that" would be considered correct by most so-called 'educated' speakers wrench = twist or pull violently wrath = anger

writhe = move violently and convulsively (as if in pain) wrong-footed = off-balance, unprepared wry = dryly humorous, ironic yardstick = measure or standard against which other values are compared yawning = extremely wide and open yearning = greatly wishing for or desiring (something)

Y-fronts = an old-fashioned style of men's underpants (Br) zeal = intense enthusiasm also zealous = showing zeal also zealot = (over)zealous person zestful = enthusiastic zombie = monster, walking dead body